

AP Am Govt. Essays #2

- 1. The political process of selecting a representative government has changed over the course of American history. Discuss the changes and the course of these changes.
- 2. The legislative branch has specified and implied duties. Discuss the role of the legislative branch with emphasis on the changes and its present direction.
- 3. The substance, power, and issues of political parties have changed over the course of American political life. Assess this statement.
- 4. The media affects the political life of America. How is this balance maintained in America? (Support should include legislation, court cases, and specific data.)
- 5. Some administrations have exceeded the bounds of the Executive office as defined by the Constitution. Using examples select three presidents who have over stepped these bounds, the reaction of the other branches, and then explain the ramifications of these cases.